SPLENDOUR

WHEN I USED TO READ FAIRY-TALES, I FANCIED THAT KIND OF THING NEVER HAPPENED AND NOW HERE I AM IN THE MIDDLE OF ONE!

– LEWIS CARROLL

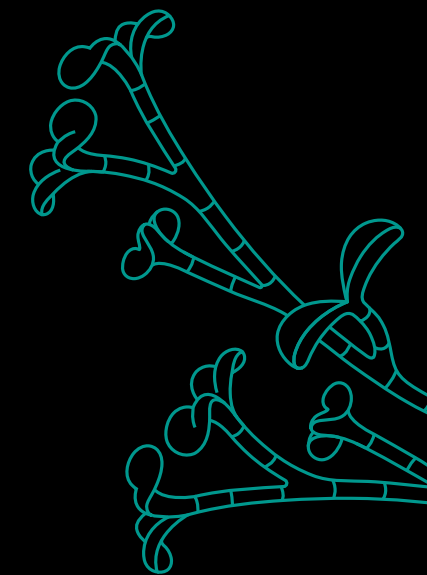

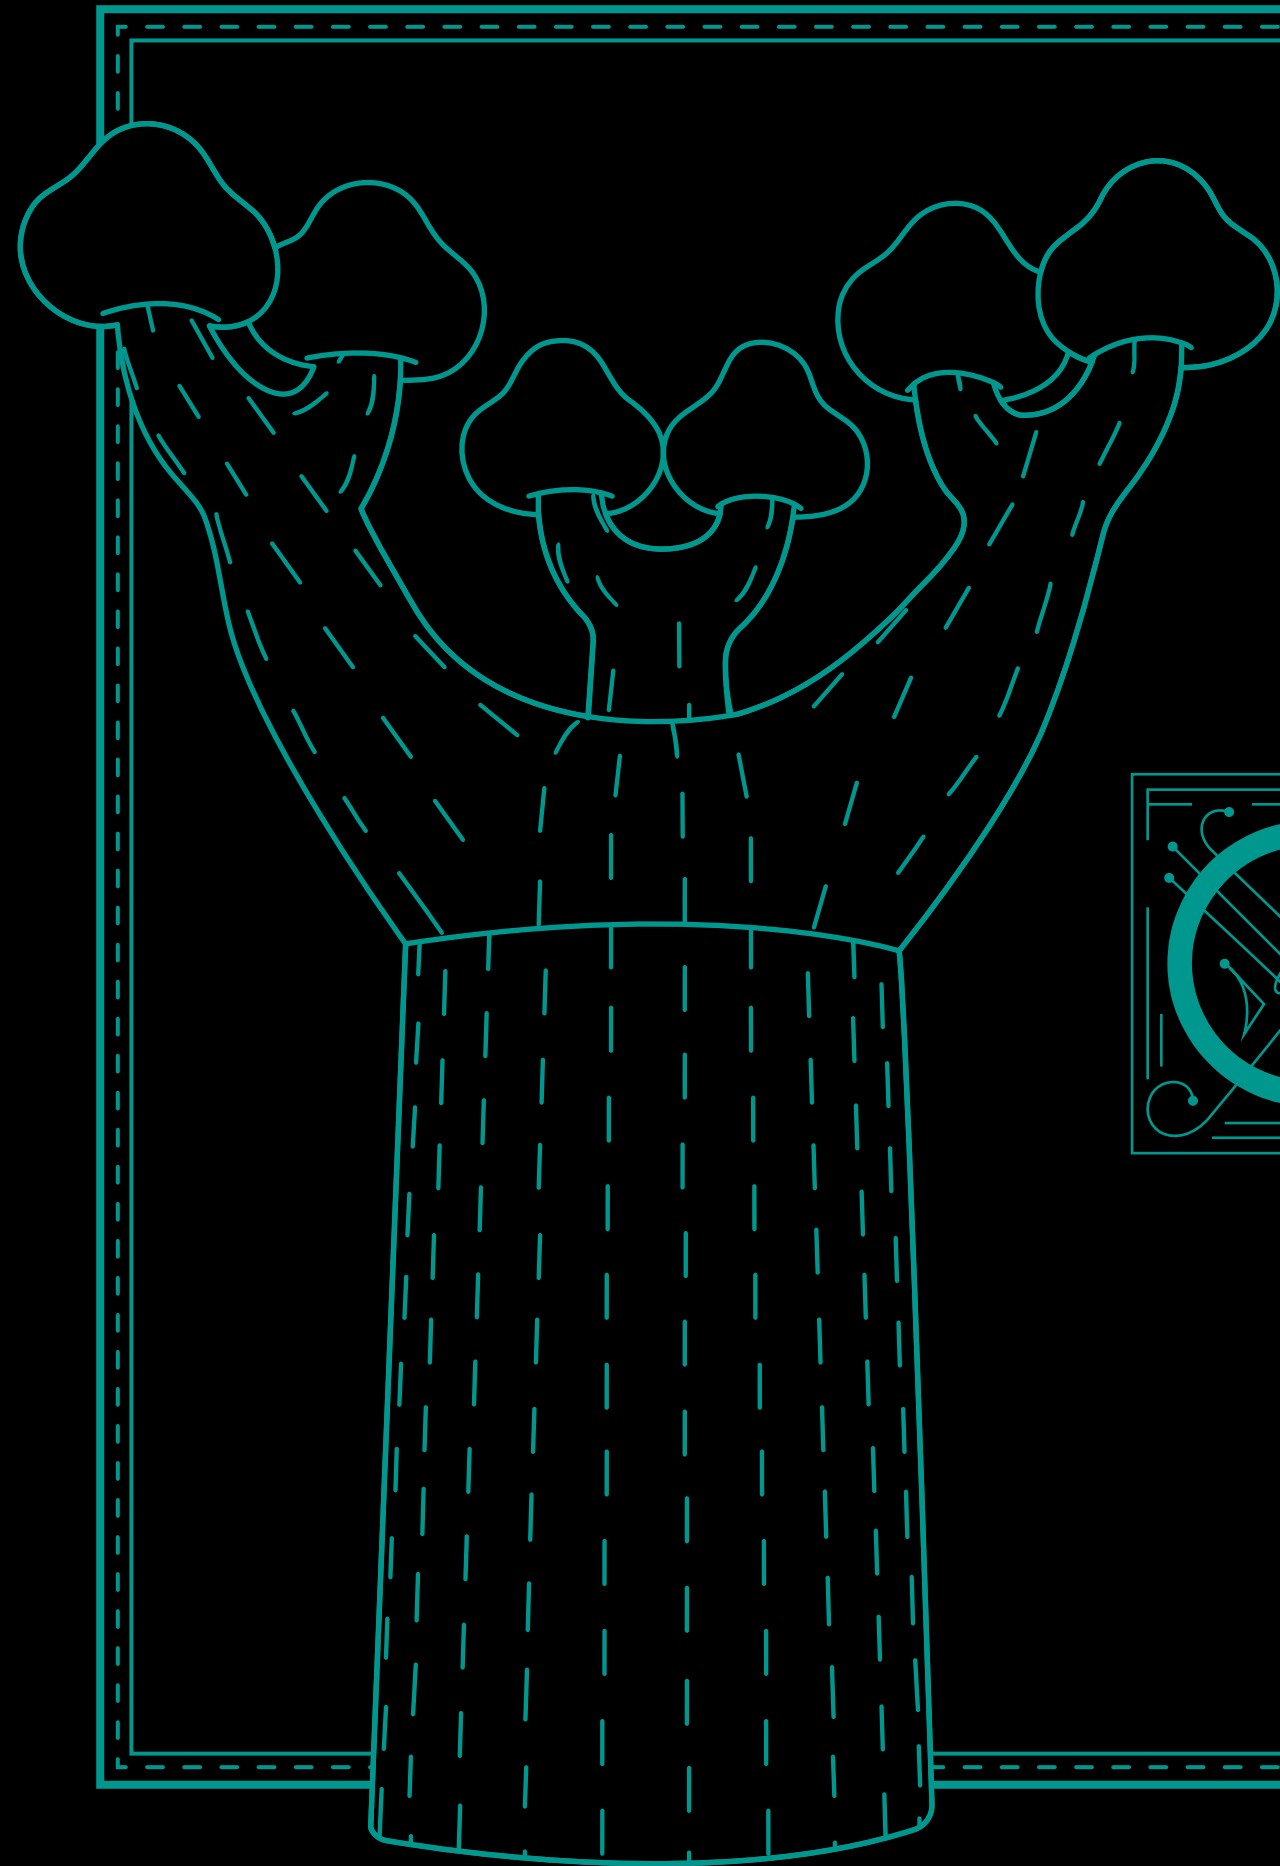

— P R E F A C E —

An epiphany enables you to sense creation. Not as something completed but as constantly becoming, evolving, ascending.

It transports you from a place where there is nothing new to a place where there is nothing old, where everything renews itself.

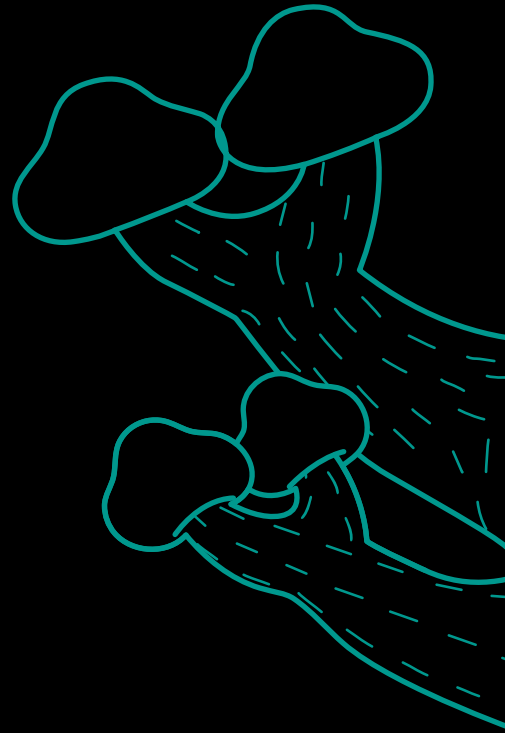

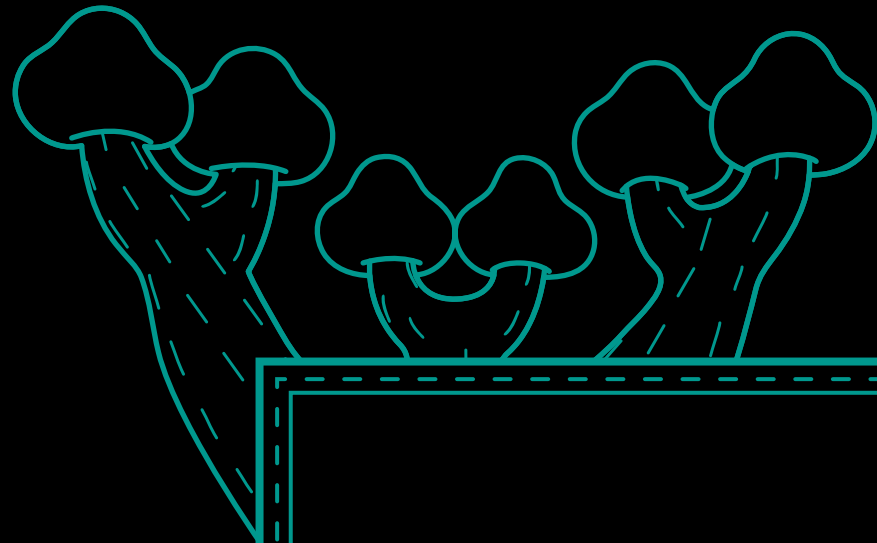

ONCE UPON A TIME,

lived a man in the city of great rulers. Designer by craft, he was consumed by ambition. A vision to create a home most wondrous.

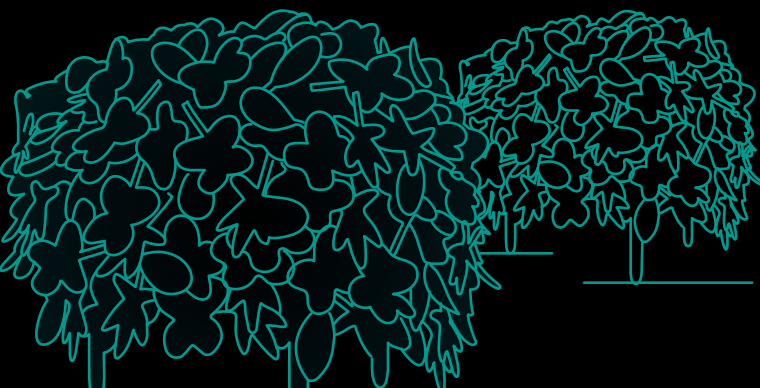

While his contemporaries travelled to their trusted foreign shores. He travelled deep into the Forest Scarlet for a journey of magic and splendour.

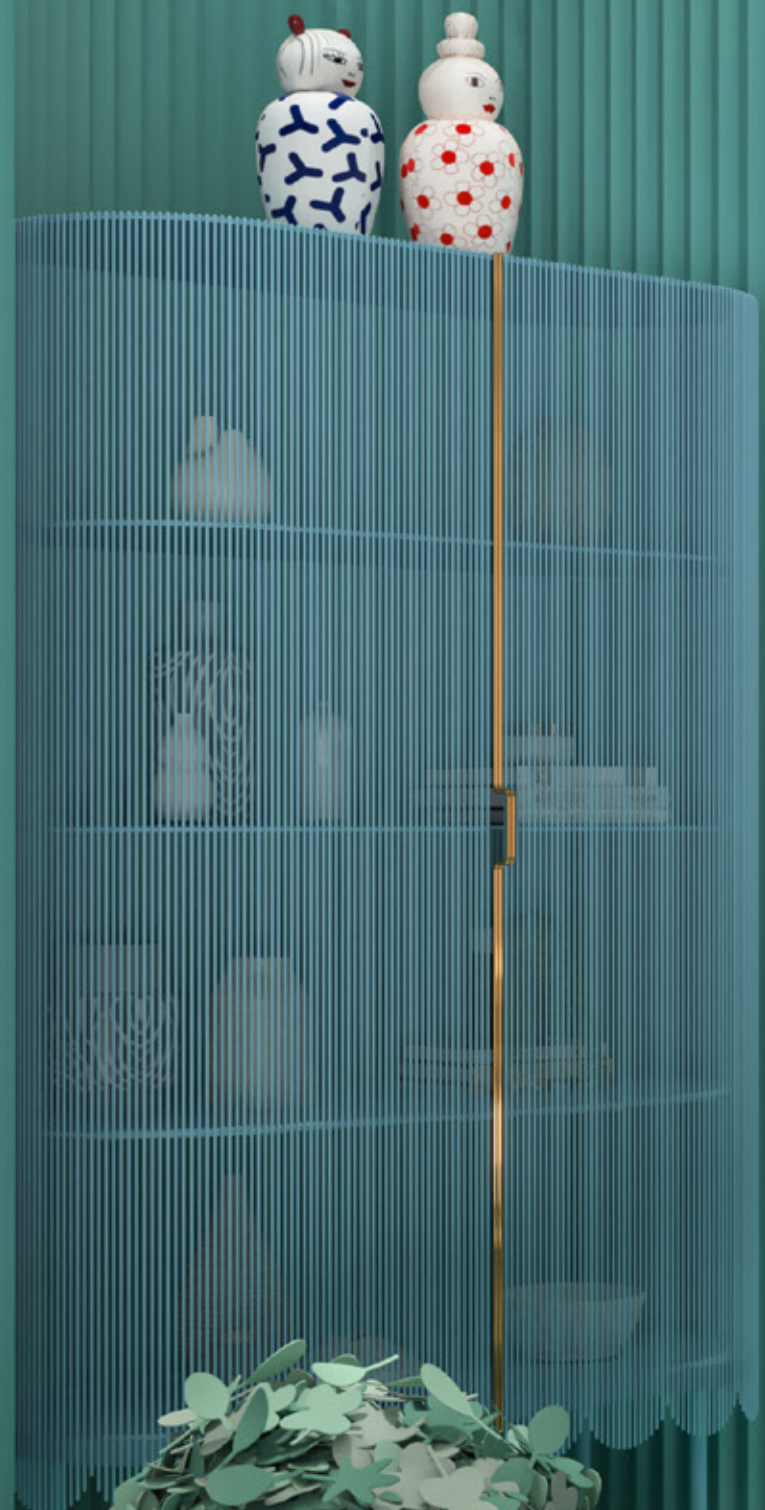

After hours in the woods, he came across an enchanting shade of blue - inside bushes, high up on trees and as far as his eyes could see. He whispered,

“I SHALL NAME THEE EPIPHANY BLUE.”

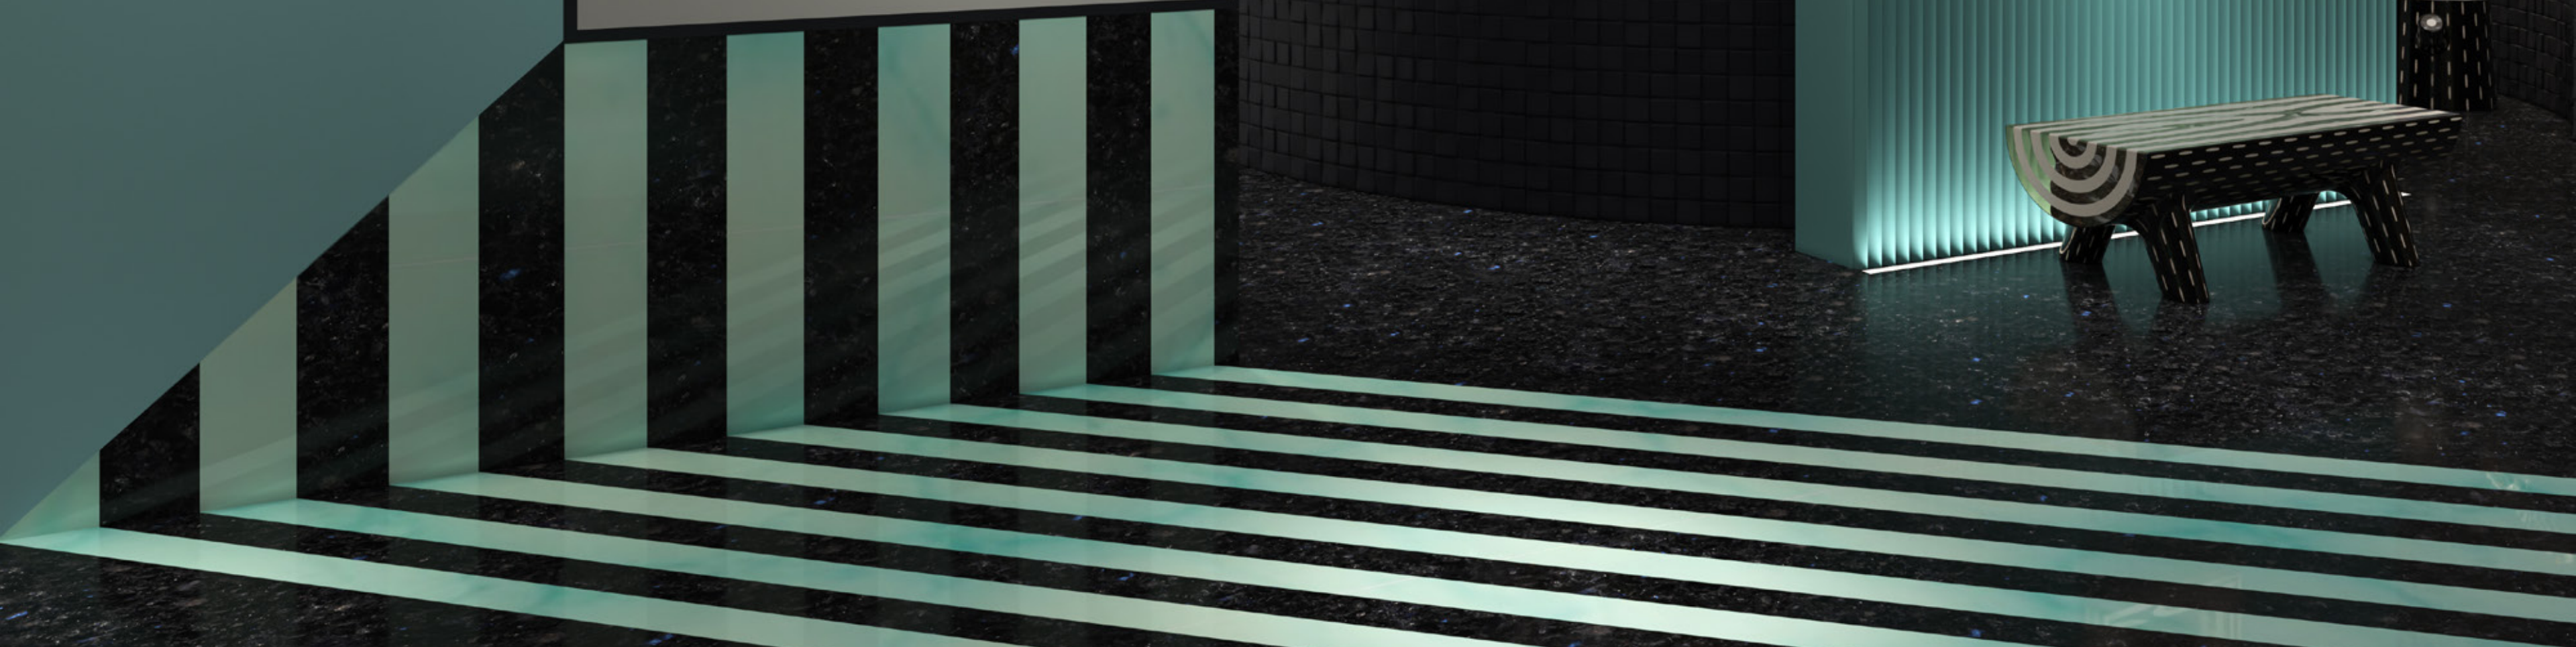

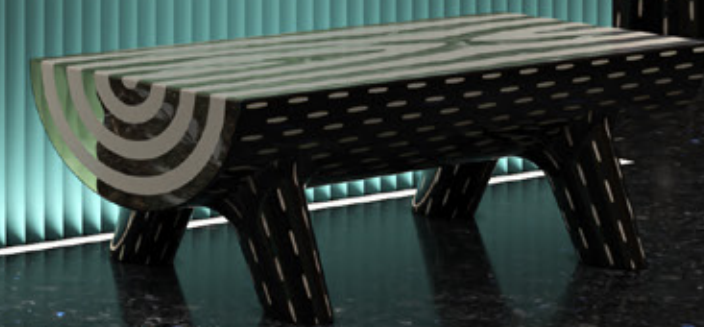

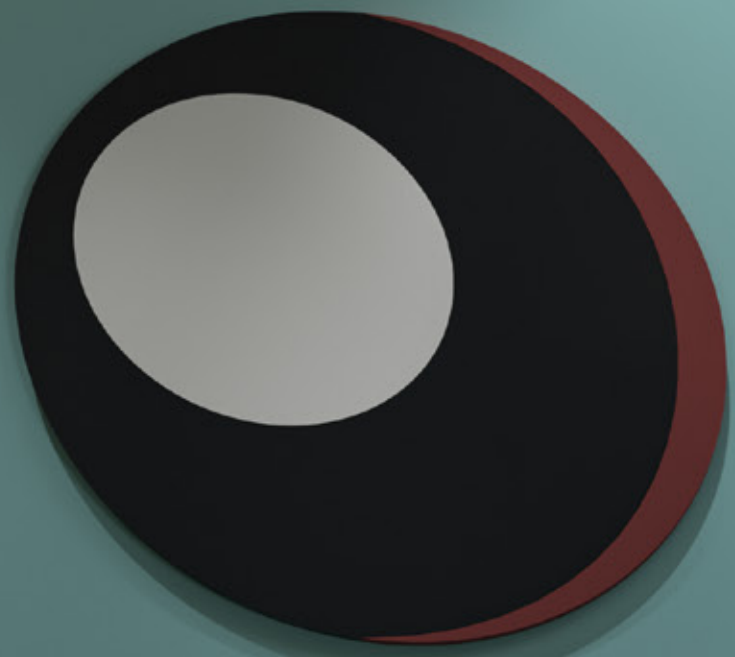

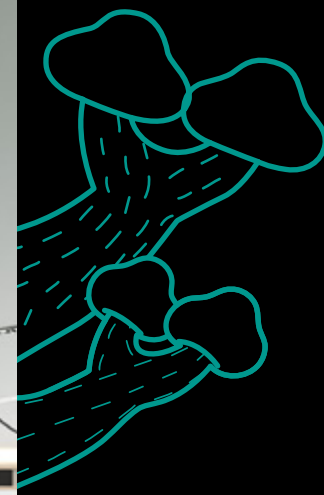

A few steps ahead, he met the wisest animal of all.
Elie, the grand elephant with smiling eyes, “I can lead you through this magical forest but for one condition, find me a home, new.”

“Don’t these amazing trees bear any fruits for a hungry man like me?” The man asked aloud.

“They say, if you gently pressed the trunk it will reveal treasures most sought. Pick from within the juiciest blueberries and the sweetest of froth.” Whispered the forest tree.

THE END

A yellow cylindrical display case with a zebra illustration. The case is covered in a dense pattern of small yellow leaves or petals. A zebra is depicted in the center, standing and facing forward. Above the case, a dark rectangular sign with the words "THE END" in gold capital letters is visible. The entire scene is set against a dark, starry background with a black and white checkered archway.

A futuristic staircase with a black and white polka-dot tree. The staircase is made of light blue steps and has a gold handrail. A black tree with white polka dots and blue cloud-like tops stands on a platform. The background is dark with a starry pattern.

As he passed a doorway, dusk suddenly turned to night. Here he was in a luxurious cave. Lit by the glow of golden cherries and adorned with the most unusual forms of nature. He was drawn into the comfort of a velvet settee and decided to rest and savour his epiphany.

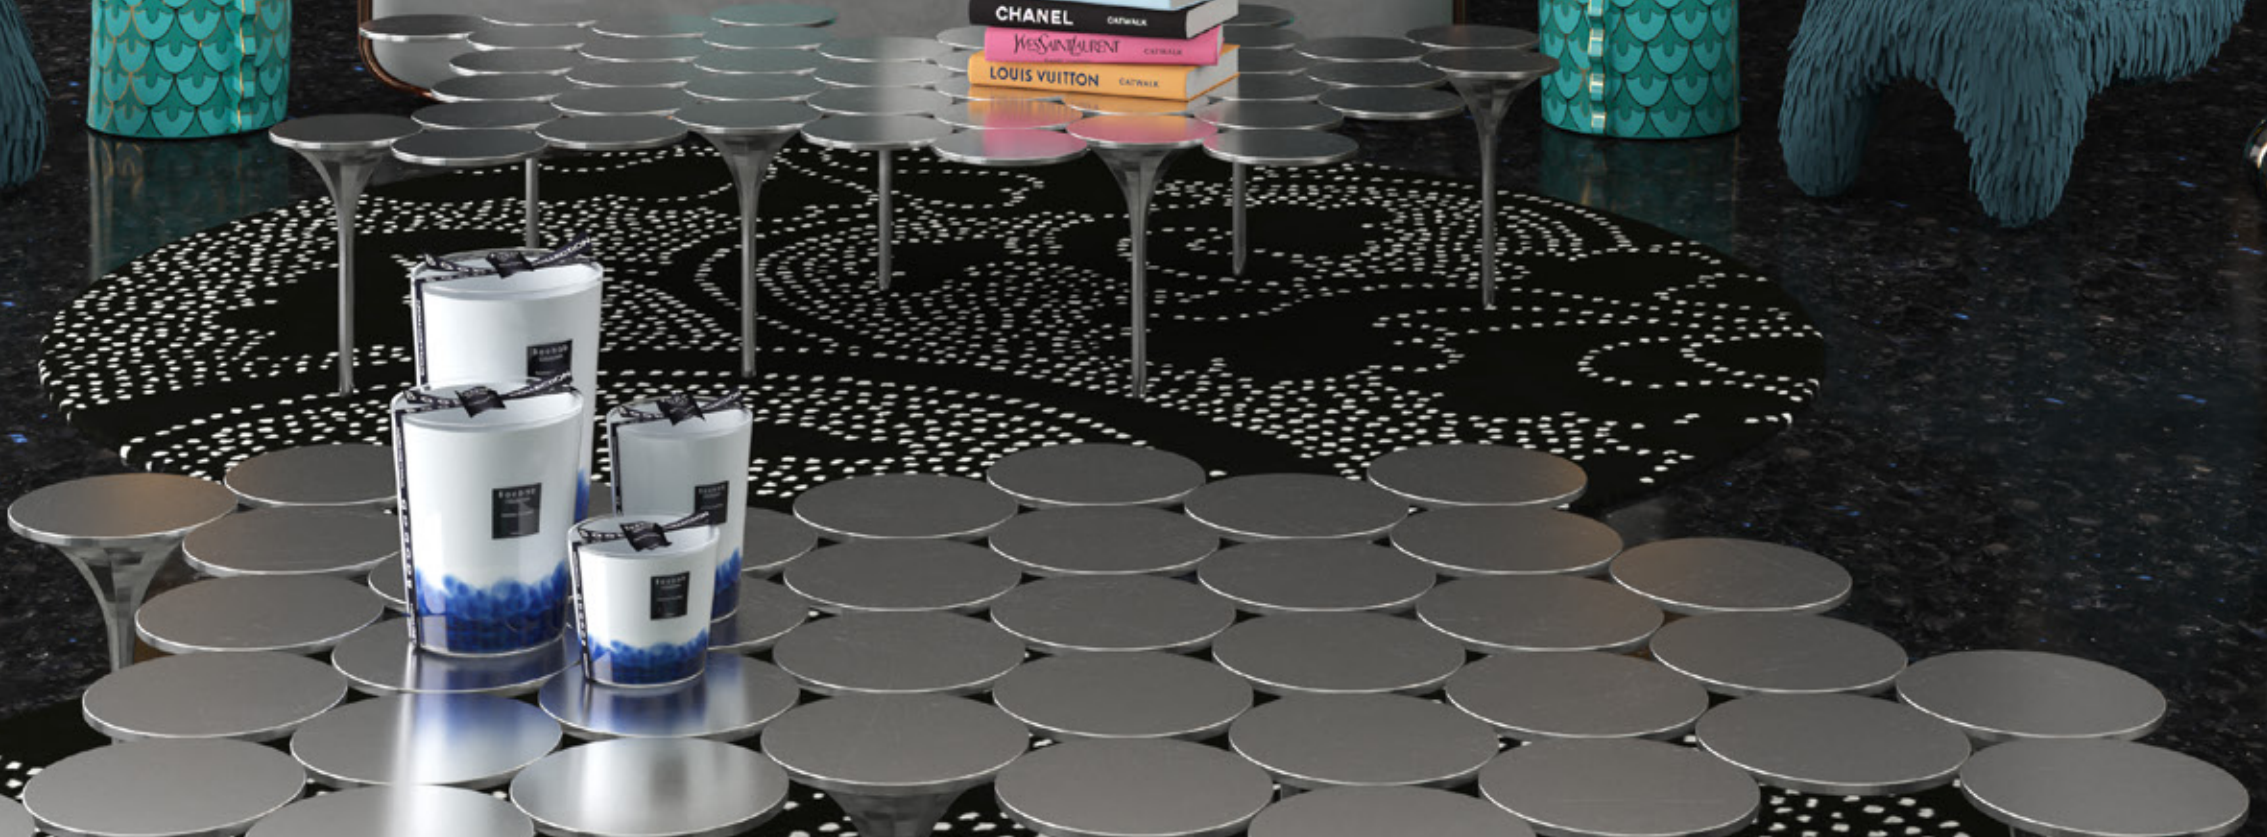

When he awoke,
the night was still young. Filled with
new vigour,
he travelled on.
He spotted a giraffe, who said nothing but
let its love glow.
Shining on a welcoming paw
and gorillas in his favourite blue.

With each passing moment and every new discovery, the man became increasingly sure of himself. His friends, their friends and their friends too would undoubtedly love the home he desired to create.

Finally, he found
a spot where he
would build his home.
To be lived in, to be loved, to be admired
and to be narrated.
A tale of fairies and
anthropomorphic
creatures, of the Scarlet forest and
the splendorous hue,
he would wisely call
Epiphany in Blue.
